

To members of the FCC:

Do you like Sinatra, Tony Bennett, film themes and show music? If so, can you name a commercial radio station that plays this programming? In fact, noncommercial Pacific-owned WPFW-FM is the only DC area radio station which plays Sinatra and Tony Bennett on a regular basis. No one plays show and film music and the great American standard in the DC market except Satellite Radio such as XM and Sirius. WGMS and smooth Jazz 105.9 are the only DC area commercial FM stations interested in listeners with any class. So members of the FCC, support the NAB if your tastes run to Brittany Spears, Christina Aguilera, RAP, right wing drug addict talk hosts like Rush Limbaugh, Garth Brooks, and off color dissertations by Howard Stern! XM and Sirius have invented a better mouse trap. Reward them and permit them to provide local traffic and weather information. As far as I'm concerned the NAB and commercial broadcasters have abandoned affluent, intelligent, sophisticated listeners. Commercial broadcasters and the NAB can go to hell! John Heffner
